

ARTS FACULTY LUNCH

FRIDAY, 4TH APRIL 12:00PM | THE SIBYL CENTRE

Harriet Dixon-Smith

Managing Director of NIXCO, a trusted partner providing strategic marketing and public relations services for a broad spectrum of corporate and government clients in the Australian and global film, television, arts and culture sectors.

Dr Paul Donnelly

The Deputy Director of the Chau Chak Museum within the University of Sydney, Dr Paul Donnelly is leading the University's talented and knowledgeable curators and exhibitions team.

Associate Professor Cindy McCreery

A specialist on the British Empire, Associate Professor Cindy McCreery is an accomplished historian, engaging with the visual and material culture of both the maritime British Empire and British royalty. She is vocal about her experience as and the importance of women historians.

Bronwyn Douglass

Soprano, who made her solo debut with Opera Australia in 2022, holds degrees from the Australian National University and Queensland Conservatorium, and has performed with various organisations across Australia.

Follow the QR code to book

The Women's College is hosting their annual Arts Faculty Lunch, and would love for you to attend. Meet students in similar degrees across the College, hear from industry professionals about their career journey and enjoy a delicious meal.